NOVEMBER 8-10
A CONFERENCE OF THE NATIONAL TRUST FOR HISTORIC PRESERVATION

SavingPlaces.org/Conference | #PASTFORWARD23

National Trust for Historic Preservation®
The National Trust for Historic Preservation is the country’s leading advocate for saving the places where our history happened. Our conference, PastForward, is this movement’s premier educational and networking event. It serves as an annual gathering spot for thousands of influential preservationists from communities across the nation. The tools and services shared here shape the historic places where Americans live, work, and love to visit.

“The Trust’s annual conference has been central to my professional development. I have met so many impressive professionals in our field and I have had memorable experiences as a presenter. I have witnessed firsthand the evolution of the preservation movement to be inclusive and representative of the diverse communities it works to preserve. I look forward to attending and participating at future conferences. My sincerest gratitude to the Trust for holding this outreach as an essential component to furthering our shared mission.”

—KATHY RODRIGUEZ, Assoc. AIA, Deputy Historic Preservation Officer, Living Heritage Trades Academy & Vacant Building Program, City of San Antonio Office of Historic Preservation
